How can you make money from solar power?

You can make money from solar power by selling excess electricity back to the grid through net metering, earning solar renewable energy certificates (SRECs), leasing your rooftop to solar companies, and investing in or developing solar farms. These strategies help you generate income while promoting renewable energy use.

Should you sell solar power back to the grid?

When you sell your excess renewable power, you contribute to a cleaner, more resilient energy future for everyone. In short, selling solar power back to the grid provides both immediate financial rewards and long-term environmental and societal benefits, making it a smart choice for homeowners and the planet alike.

How much money can you save with solar energy?

In states with higher electricity costs and more favorable solar policies, these savings can go up to $700 or more per month. Over a 30-year period, the financial returns from solar energy often outperform traditional investments, thanks to reduced utility bills and potential earnings from selling excess energy.

Do utility companies pay for solar energy sent back to the grid?

You'll first need to determine if your utility company offers compensation for solar energy sent back to the grid. Some states have net metering laws that require utility companies to pay homeowners for the excess energy produced by their solar panels. These states often mandate a specific rate per kWh, ensuring that you're fairly compensated.
