The property is currently used for broadcasting Vatican Radio. The system will combine renewable electricity production with the needs of the underlying agricultural land.

Part of Pope Francis' dream was to ensure the city state in Rome ran on green energy. An agrivoltaic plant on Vatican property is the result.

The Vatican's solar shift is a culmination of a political and spiritual mission years in the making. In 2024, the late Pope Francis issued an apostolic letter ordering the construction of an ...

Vatican City is set to become the eighth country in the world to generate 100 per cent of its electricity from renewable energy after Pope Francis announced plans to build a solar plant.

VATICAN CITY (CNS) - Pope Francis appointed two special commissioners to start work on building a dual-use solar system on a Vatican property outside of Rome that could supply the ...

Italy has agreed to a Vatican plan to turn a 430-hectare (1,000-acre) plot of land north of Rome into a vast solar farm that will generate enough electricity to meet the needs of Vatican City.

The Vatican is now completely powered by a farm that sports solar panels to help shade-tolerant crops thrive. This new coupling of solar and agriculture is growing fast.

By harnessing the strengths of wind and solar power, this hybrid system maximizes energy production. It is especially useful in regions with Pope Francis has announced plans for the Vatican City to go solar ...

In a quiet corner of the Roman countryside, an ambitious project is taking shape--one that seeks not only to power the Vatican City entirely through renewable energy, but also to embody the...
